BILL STATUS: As Introduced

FUNDS AFFECTED: GENERAL
 DEDICATED FEDERAL

IMPACT: State

Summary of Legislation: This bill requires Indiana University, Purdue University, Ball State University, Indiana State University, and the University of Southern Indiana, including their regional campuses and satellite locations, to offer to resident undergraduate students a guaranteed price option under which tuition cannot be increased, with certain exceptions, during four academic years, beginning with the academic year in which the student first enrolls in the institution. It allows the state educational institution to grant the guaranteed price option to nonresident undergraduate students. The bill specifies that the work papers containing the assumptions, methodology, and computations on which a guaranteed price option is based are public records.

Effective Date: July 1, 2007.

Explanation of State Expenditures:

Explanation of State Revenues: The bill states that beginning with the 2008-2009 academic year, state colleges and universities have to offer beginning students a guaranteed price option under which tuition cannot be increased, with certain exceptions, during four academic years, beginning with the academic year in which the student first enrolls in the institution. The present value of the guaranteed option cannot exceed the present value of projected annual tuition costs over the period the guaranteed price option applies. The university has to provide the assumptions and methodology that was used in computing the guaranteed price option.

Background Information: For the 2006-2007 academic year, returning Indiana students had approximately a 6% increase in tuition. The Indiana nonfarm personal income grew by 5.2% from FY 2005 to FY 2006. It is projected to grow by 5% in FY 2007, 4.6% in FY 2008, and 4.7% in CY 2009.
